THE FRENCH REVERSE

Further News of the Slaughter of Troops by Arabs.

A DESPERATE EARLY MORNING ATTACK

And Massacre of Almost an Entire Detachment, Followed by a Second Slaughter and the Investment of Timbuctoo.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The news of the defeat of the French garrison at Timbuctoo has caused great excitement here and details are anxiously awaited. From news that has reached here it appears that a French column, commanded by Col. Bannier, arrived at Timbuctoo on January 10 and two days later a detachment of troops with Col. Bannier at their head, accompanied by Commandant Hagueny and the entire staff, started out on a reconnoitering expedition, leaving Capt. Philippe, as senior captain, in charge of the post. This detachment, in some manner never fully explained, was surprised asleep in camp at Dougui, two hours' march north of Goundam, and three days' march from Timbuctoo. The tribes, chiefly Tuaregs, mounted and on foot, and armed with lances and knives, entered the French camp by several sides, during the early morning and overturned the stacked arms in front of the sharpshooters, who, when aroused, were unable to seize their rifles in time to defend themselves successfully. The Arabs massacred nearly the entire detachment, consisting of the fifth and eleventh companies of Senegalese sharpshooters. A French officer, Capt. Nigrette, though seriously wounded, escaped to a platoon of soldiers left some yards behind the main camp, under command of Lieut. Sarda, and it retreated to Timbuctoo. The Tuaregs pursued the retreating soldiers, and then invested Timbuctoo. For its defense Capt. Philippe had only 300 rifles and six cannon, but a column commanded by Col. Joffre, composed of a company and a half of sharpshooters, a squadron of Spahis cavalry, thirty auxiliary Spahis and two guns, after meeting serious opposition, reached Timbuctoo. It is, in all probability, part of the force of Capt. Philippe and Col. Joffre, which, according to the advices from Senegal, has been cut to pieces by the Arabs. It is believed here that the garrison, since the Joffre column arrived there, had been again reinforced.

LATE CROP REPORTS.

Received by Telegraph from Many States

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The reports as to the condition of crops throughout the country, and the general influence of weather on growth, cultivation and harvest, was yesterday made by the directors of the different state weather services of the United States weather bureau. The reports received by telegraph at Chicago follow:

Illinois—Temperature and sunshine about normal, rainfall below and badly distributed; drought in southern portion broken. Corn improving, but reports conflict as to the extent of damage. Threshing about completed. Fall plowing progressing and some seeding done.

Indiana—Cool nights and rains were beneficial to growing crops in many localities. Corn is maturing slowly, but earning better than was expected. Fall plowing progresses slowly.

Missouri—Improved late corn and pastures in southern portion caused by showers and cloudy weather, and plowing facilitated. In northern sections drought continues and corn cutting is in progress in many counties. Apples still falling badly.

Arkansas—Cloudiness has prevailed during the entire week with frequent showers which reached all portions, stimulating and reviving growing crops, and putting the ground in prime condition for stubble breaking and turnip sowing. As a rule cotton is doing well, though some reports rust and shedding. Corn is made.

Kentucky—Drought broken effectually in most sections, and late corn, tobacco, pastures and gardens are improving rapidly. Some sections still need rain. Tobacco and hemp cutting still in progress; both those crops have been materially shortened by the drought.

Ohio—Local showers have revived vegetation somewhat in the central and southern portions; in the northern counties corn is beyond help, and has been or will be cut for fodder. General frost on the 23d did no serious damage. Potatoes small and not over 90 crop. On lowlands corn promises half to three-quarters crop, while hill corn is a failure.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—The regular incoming express on the Frisco road, due in this city at 6:30 a. m. yesterday, collided with an extra engine standing on the track at Gratiot station, about six miles west. The passenger was moving at a 40-mile rate, and the shock sent the stationary engine along the track at great speed for two miles. Neither engine or train were derailed, and nobody was seriously hurt, although the passengers on the train were roughly shaken up.

The president has laid off his "solemn sense of responsibility" to keep in touch with the party leaders.

The new tariff law has been characterized as having been dictated by the whiskey trust and the sugar trust and as an act of perfidy and dishonor, and yet Mr. Cleveland and the other Democratic leaders who depend upon deception to win, are saying it is a step in the right direction.

WHAT bothers Grover Cleveland is that coal was not made free to help his associate robbers in their venture in purchasing the Nova Scotia coal fields, in view of getting free coal. Cleveland is satisfied with a tariff on sugar because the sugar trust wants it. He is the friend of the sugar trust because it contributes freely to Democratic campaign funds.

Springfield Journal: Mr. Springer of this district some times manages to attract attention in the eastern papers, and then is sorry that they did not ignore him. The opinion in which he is held in his own party is shown by the following from the Democratic New York Sun.

Hon. William Mearns, Springfield, technically known as Bounding Bill, the War Steed of the Sangamon, now wears a telescope and an ear trumpet. He is looking for the quick fulfillment of his published visions about the Lie and Stool tariff. He is waiting to see the fires start in every furnace and to hear every wheel of industry revolve. Just at present Mr. Springer sees only the quenchless fire of his own fervor, and hears the whirling of no other wheels than his own.

SPRINGFIELD Journal: When Grover Cleveland declared in his letter to Wilson that the passage of the senate tariff bill, which the Democratic congress subsequently passed, meant "party perfidy and party dishonor," he used an expression that meant a good deal. The dictionary defines perfidy as "the act of violating faith; the violation of a promise or vow, or trust reposed; faithlessness; treachery." Therefore, we have it on the word and authority of the head of the party that the Democratic party has been guilty since it obtained power of violating faith with the people, of violating its promises to them and the trust reposed in it by them, and of treachery to those who placed it in power. Such a party does not deserve and cannot expect to be continued in power. It has been condemned by its own chosen leader and the death sentence will be pronounced by the people at the ballot box.

A recent English invention is said to come nearer to being the ideal electric carriage than anything that has hitherto appeared. The carriage, which was recently tested in London with most satisfactory results, is in appearance much like an ordinary carriage, such as horses are used with, except that the wheels are smaller, and are furnished with thick pneumatic tires. The frame work is built of welded steel tubes. The front pair of wheels are controlled by a tangent screw, which is governed by a small wheel at the driver's seat, enabling him to steer the apparatus at will. The motive power is electricity, which is carried in a series of accumulators, fitted under the seats out of sight and out of the way. The whole machine weighs about 1,000 pounds, and can make on a good road a speed of some fifteen miles an hour. It is said that it will run 50 miles without being recharged, and that this operation is very quickly performed.

Free Coal, Iron and Sugar.
Grover Cleveland has said that he knew nothing about the tariff, in fact, had heard little about it, until he was elected president. He probably knows as little about the logic of a tariff now, as he knew before he ever heard of it, for the reason that he discusses that subject only with those from that section of the country who do not know how to make business go.

His letters on the subject of the present tariff law were to Wilson, of West Virginia, and Catchings, of Mississippi, and Clark, of Tennessee. In other words, Grover Cleveland is the enemy of northern prosperity, and the solicitor of the applause of the South that is well known to be in favor of free trade for no better reason than that it cannot, or rather has not, kept pace with the industrious people of the north in the development of their section.

How little Mr. Cleveland knows about this important subject, and how superficially he has considered it, a passage from his letter to Catchings will show. In it he argues the necessity of free raw materials as the foundation of logical and sensible tariff reform, and suggests that, if the senate had consented to placing iron ore and coal on the free list, there would have only been a loss of $700,000 in revenue, meaning that that amount is all that coal and iron ore will yield in "tariff taxes." But he follows this with the statement that he is sure there is a common habit of underestimating the importance of free raw materials. It must be very important indeed, if from the great leading raw materials, coal and iron, only $700,000 annually are collected at the custom-houses for it. That amount distributed among the factories of the country would not amount to one dollar apiece to all the concerns that use coal and iron ore. Indeed it must be mighty important to the consumer. The effect of free coal and iron will be to rob the poorest paid workmen of the country, those engaged in mining, and whose finished product this so-called raw material is, and give the amount of this robbery to the manufacturer.

As a tariff logician Mr. Cleveland is a failure, and this fact goes very far toward nullifying what he has said against the senate bill. It will be noted that while he argues in favor of free coal and iron, he has not a word in favor of free sugar, which is as much a raw material as the other two are, and fewer working-men are engaged in producing it in this country; and free sugar is much more important to the people than free coal or iron. Free sugar would mean forty million dollars annually in the pockets of the people. Free coal and iron don't mean one cent a year in the pocket of anybody but the manufacturer.

Catarrh Can be Cured.

Glorious news to Catarrhal sufferers! A permanent cure is now within your reach.

DR. ABEL, the great Specialist, brings good news to all sufferers with Catarrh.

Read the Doctor's letter. FOR ONE WEEK, BEGINNING AUGUST 26TH, 1894, he proposes to make especial rates for the treatment of Catarrh.

TO THE PUBLIC.

For one week commencing August 26th, I will make special rates to all patients suffering with any form of Catarrh. I do this to advertise my business. I want to cure a large number of cases of Catarrh and I positively state that

I CAN CURE CATARRH

And Stop You From Growing Deaf.

This rate is given for advertising purposes only. When I have cured several hundred patients here, then the many scoffers who say "Catarrh Can't be Cured" will have to hunt something else to talk about. I have cured thousands of cases and I can do it again. I will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that I fail to cure! I am especially prepared to cure Chronic diseases both in experience and equipment. To accommodate the large number of patients who will accept this offer I will be at my office every day the week, except one hour at night. Business men and others engaged during the day can take advantage of the night hours. Open until 8 p. m. All medicines furnished free. Consultation free. Fees made known upon consultation. They will surprise you. Remember this offer lasts but one week and will not be repeated. Come.

Respectfully Yours,

DRS. ABEL & JONES.

NOTICE.—Look out for the traveling mountebank fakirs who travel from town to town, stopping at the best hotels from one day to 30 days, imposing upon all credulous and afflicted people, telling them that they can make the blind see and the lame walk and the deaf hear in one treatment, and that they can cure catarrh in ten days. Any sane person knows that catarrh cannot be cured in ten days and they won't be humbugged by spurious fakirs, who pretend to make the deaf hear by blowing wind and chloroform through their noses and ears and burning the back of their ears with chloroform applied on pieces of blue tissue paper; this they call their wonderful new treatment, discovered by them. No doubt some of the poor victims will remember how they have been fooled by these traveling fakirs, as the public well knows that reputable specialists always have enough of business at home and never travel from town to town humbugging the people. What claims have these fakirs to your patronage, who put up in hotels, charge you enormous fees and then depart for greener pastures and more suckers, never to return. The inference is that they have no credentials to back up their spurious claims. If they have they should publish them in the daily papers so that the public could see whether they are dealing with medical fakirs or honorable professional gentlemen, who are not afraid to publish their credentials. To the latter class belong DRs. ABEL & JONES, who have PERMANENTLY LOCATED their offices in Decatur for the treatment of chronic diseases.

THE LABOR TROUBLES

The History of the Strike on the Illinois Central

WAS THE MATTER OF CHIEF INTEREST

At Yesterday's Session of the Labor Commission—Fifteen Witnesses were Examined—A New Plan to Prevent Strikes Suggested.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The session of the labor commission yesterday was chiefly interesting because of the testimony of General Superintendent A. W. Sullivan of the Illinois Central railroad, who related the history of the strike on that road. He unfolded a plan to settle labor difficulties. It is to make the labor unions responsible for all overt acts committed by their members and for all violations of contracts made by the head of organizations and broken by the members thereof.

The commission is trying to get at the cost of the strike to the railroads. To this end several statements were submitted, giving the figures. A number of roads have yet to be heard from.

Among the fifteen witnesses examined during the day was Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who denied saying: "The backbone of the strike is broken" when he returned to Chicago to take command of the federal troops ordered out to do duty in connection with the strike.

Enoch Harshole, a Chicago attorney, asked permission of the commission to cross-examine George M. Pullman. As Mr. Pullman was not on the stand the request was refused, but he was told that Mr. Pullman would be recalled if the attorney would submit in writing a number of questions of sufficient importance to justify such an act.

Mr. Harshole said he represented the American Railway Union.

Nicholas Hunt, police inspector, testified that little or no violence was used by the strikers in his district, and that employees who were asked by the strikers to quit generally did so without being intimidated. The inspector professed deep ignorance as to who threw stones or set cars on fire. He thought the offenders did not look like railroad men. He asserted that Burke, who led the mob at Forty-ninth and Lewis streets, was a well-known thief, and that so far as he knew there was not a railroad man in that mob.

General Manager James Whalen of the Chicago & Northwestern road submitted a statement of the loss on that road, amounting to $752,600.

Police Inspector John Fitzpatrick corroborated the statements of Inspector Hunt as to the character of the mob and General Superintendent Sullivan of the Illinois Central was examined at length as to the cause of the strike on that road, which was designated by the president of the United States for special investigation. This was the first road to be attacked by the American Railway Union. He said, 3,500 men quit work during the strike, but only 1,000 of them were strikers. The remainder were forced to quit by the strikers.

"How did you learn this?" asked Commissioner Kernan.

"By a careful investigation," Mr. Sullivan could only mention two cases of assault on the part of strikers and about sixty arrests of strikers. All of the 1,000 men forced to quit work were taken back and 600 of the actual strikers, leaving 1,200 of the actual strikers who had been permanently dismissed from the service of the company. The men reinstated included those who had committed no overt acts and had not intimidated others, provided their places had not been filled by new men. The gross loss to the road by the strike was estimated at $740,000.

"The position of the Illinois Central in this strike was a unique one," said the witness, "in that nothing it could have done would have prevented their losses. Every possible influence was brought to bear on the employees to convince them of the error of their actions, and I tried several times to bring about an adjustment of the differences. The men would listen to no concessions and no arguments. They stopped work without any grievance, without notice to the company, and they have never given the company any explanation of their conduct. The railroad was helpless and it would to-day have been helpless if the men desired to repeat the strike."

"How would you remedy this state of things?" asked Mr. Kernan.

"The remedy is very simple," said the official. "It is to make every labor organization responsible for the acts of its members. The unions are now wholly irresponsible, so far as their acts or the acts of their members are concerned."

Mr. Sullivan asserted that every time an employee of the Illinois Central struck a contract was broken, and he pleaded the fact that in this case the road had no recourse, while if the company broke its contract with the men it could be made to pay by due process of law. These contracts were with the labor organizations, but the members broke them, regardless of their obligations to their own unions, and when taken to task about it declared they acted as individuals and not as members of the unions to which they belonged. In the meantime," said Mr. Sullivan, "the loss to the railroads is a fixed fact. Even while the troubles are being adjusted the road is losing money every day. I think the labor unions would be a good thing if they were under the control of their leaders and were made responsible for their acts."

"You cannot make them responsible in law," said Mr. Kernan.

"I only suggest the necessity of it. I do not think the license system has any advantages, nor is there any real remedy in arbitration."

William O. Johnson, counsel for the Chicago & Erie road, submitted a statement showing the loss on that road to be $115,376 on account of the strike. Rev. Henry O. Lindblom, of Pullman, assigned half a dozen causes for the strike, chief of which was the cut in wages.

He poked his little nephew and son with the pistol to cause them to turn over, when the weapon went off accidentally, the ball entering the child's side. The father then put the pistol to the wound, and the child died. He said the wound was fatal and he could not bear to see the little one suffer. He is under arrest, almost, if not quite insane.

UNDER THE NEW LAW

The Change from the Old to the New

EFFECTED WITHOUT HITCH OR BREAK

The Treasury Department Will Not Seek for Errors of Punctuation, but Will Rule in the Interest of Government and Importer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The change from the McKinley tariff to the new tariff law, involving great reductions in rates of duties and numberless alterations in matters of detail, because of the well-oiled wheels of government machinery, was accomplished yesterday morning, as far as the treasury department is advised, all over the United States, without a hitch or break. All instructions necessary to carry the new law into effect were sent out Monday, and collectors of customs and internal revenue were working yesterday under the changed conditions, with new schedules and altered rates, with a smoothness and dispatch that shows how thoroughly the government machine is directed and kept in hand by the powers at Washington.

Many points, it is expected, will be found in the new tariff by collectors of customs, that will require smoothing out by decisions finally of the secretary of the treasury; but Mr. Carlisle, with the prudence and foresight that becomes almost second nature with one charged with heavy governmental responsibilities, will not "cross the bridge" until he reaches it. Collectors of customs will first pass upon such disputed points, and the importers, if dissatisfied by the decision, can, as provided by law, take appeal to the board of general appraisers and finally to the secretary of the treasury.

Much light has been shed upon the line of decisions that Secretary Carlisle will follow in the few decisions of disputed points that he has already made, and they will serve as a guide to customs officers all over the United States.

On the question of admitting free dutiable goods now in bond and placed on the free list by the new law, Secretary Carlisle looked into the intent of congress solely, and although the old law was somewhat obscure as to its meaning, by a liberal construction of the new law he admitted such goods free without submitting the owners to the expense of exporting and reimporting this class of goods.

This gives a key to decisions affecting the disputed points in the new tariff and shows that Secretary Carlisle intends to do all in his power to carry out the intent of congress. He will not look for defects of punctuation to defeat the objects of the bill, but rather look for the good that is in it and so construe its obscure provisions in the interest of the government and with fairness to importers.

According to official figures obtained from the bureau of statistics of the treasury department, the amount of goods in customs bonded warehouses on July 31 last, aggregated $51,794,446 in value. During this month the value of bonded goods has increased probably to $54,000,000. All duties received yesterday at the treasury are to the effect that a great rush is in progress at most of the important seaport cities to take goods out of bond.

The revenue that is expected to pour in from this source will probably more than offset the decline in internal revenue, which from day to day will be at a minimum amount for some time to come.

From internal revenue so far this fiscal year the receipts have aggregated $71,000,000—almost $1,000,000 a day for each working day. For September the revenue from this source is estimated at only $3,000,000, derived almost exclusively from the tax on fermented liquors and tobacco. Whisky sufficient to supply the market for the next three months has already been taken out under the tax of ninety cents to escape the increased tax of $1.10. All the clerks in the internal revenue bureau are engaged in stamping the old 90-cent whisky stamps $1.10 over the face.

So far this month $10,000,000 has been received from customs, and for the new fiscal year $24,000,000. From now on the revenue from this source will probably average for the next few months $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 a month. The receipts in receipts this month from the customs have already exceeded the receipts for the same months of the previous year. The treasury is now enabled to wipe out the deficit of $89,000,000 of last year.

Under the benefits of the new tariff law are expected to make themselves daily apparent, swelling the net balance, now standing at $126,500,000, in a few months to $150,000,000, and thus enabling the secretary of the treasury to build up the gold reserve, now aggregating $55,000,000, without weakening the net treasury balance.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(Second Session.)

SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The last act in the great legislative spectacle that has attracted the attention of the whole country for the last nine months was performed in the senate chamber to-day, and was the least interesting and most commonplace performance that ever closed a long session in that body. Although there were only two hours assigned to it, there were no less than three recesses taken within that time, as a resource against the weariness and drowsiness of the occasion; and when the vice-president made his farewell speech and declared the senate adjourned without day, the speech and the declaration were heard by only twenty senators. All the rest had vanished, either to their homes, to watering places or to distant countries.

As to the fate of the tariff bill, which had absorbed and almost monopolized public attention throughout the long session, there was not a word officially communicated to the senate. It had been supposed that the senate would have been notified by the house that the bill had become a law through the expiration of the ten days allowed by the constitution to the president of the United States for the return of a bill with or without his approval. But the only notification of the fate of that great measure was that which was gathered from Mr. Cleveland's letter of yesterday to Representative Catchings, of Mississippi, with its covert allusion to democratic traitors.

There was no message from the president or from the house of representatives in relation to the matter; and there was no allusion to it in extremis, except from the effort on the part of the Senator Jones, (Ark.) to explain in a private colloquy with two other democratic senators, some of the polariscope mysteries in connection with the sugar schedule.

The final adjournment of the senate took place at one minute before 3 o'clock.

In accordance with the terms of the joint resolution adopted last Friday, the house, at 2 o'clock to-day, was adjourned to the second session of the fifty-third congress, without a day, by Speaker Crisp, with no ceremony whatever, and it interrupted the reading clerk as he was making his way through the House antislavery bill, consideration of which had been asked for by Mr. Terry just two minutes before the hour fixed for adjournment.

This last act in the drama of the session had been preceded by the usual wearisome wait for the return of the committee appointed to wait upon the president to notify him that congress was ready to adjourn and ask if he had any further communication to make. The wait, however, was partly occupied in taking a vote by tellers upon the passage of the resolution reported yesterday authorizing the printing of 60,000 copies of the comparison of the rate of the tariff bill with those of previous bills. The point of no quorum had been made by Mr. Johnson, who was opposed to the passage of the resolution, and failing to get a modification so as to enable Chairman Watson to add anything he desired in the way of explanation to the comparison, he insisted upon his point. This forced the withdrawal of the resolution.

Several efforts were made to secure the accomplishment of desired legislation, but the only proposition which met unanimous approval was that to print 2,000 copies of the digest and rules for the second session.

Messrs. Maddox, Brookshire and Pigott, democrats, and Daniels and Undergraff, republicans, were appointed members of the house of the committee to investigate and report upon the liability of the government, if any, for the disaster at old Ford's theater, last year, by which twenty-one clerks in the war department lost their lives.

The resignation of W. S. Oates, governor-elect of Alabama, as a representative from that state, to take effect November 5, was announced in a letter to the speaker.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Enjoy an Ideal Day for Their Annual Parade and Review.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—With just enough cloudiness to lessen the effects of the sun's brightness, the Knights of Pythias had an ideal day yesterday for their parade. Broadcloth uniforms were a little too thick for comfort, perhaps, but the knights did not appear to mind the inconvenience and made a magnificent showing with their waving plumes and gold and silver accoutrements.

The parade assembled at Camp Washington on the monument grounds at 4 o'clock, and marched up Seventeenth street to Pennsylvania avenue, where the procession turned and the knights marched in review before President Cleveland. A small stand, decorated appropriately, had been erected in front of the White House and on this the president stood during the entire time occupied by the procession in passing.

MORE FOREST FIRES.

Millions of Feet of Timber Destroyed and Endangered by the Fervent Element.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 28.—Forest fires are again reported from the northern country. This time they are doing terrible destruction on the Western Mesas, where the Swan River Logging Co. and the Itasca Lumber Co. are at work.

A telegram from Hibbing states that the men employed by Campbell & Williams, contractors for the Swan river concern, were driven into town because of the fire, which had destroyed their camps and buildings and about 1,500,000 feet of timber cut and ready to be hauled.

In the vicinity are extensive old choppings as well as hundreds of millions of standing timber belonging to the Weyerhaeusers, Sheelin-Carpenter Co., Itasca Lumber Co., and other concerns, mostly of Minneapolis. Changes in the wind are awaited with anxiety.

More Doubtful Chinese Victories Reported.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Times correspondent in Shang-Hai says: The Chinese troops, who have been joined by 5,000 Koreans, have rolled back the Japanese with heavy losses to Kai-Song, forty miles north of Seoul. The advance of the Chinese continues. They are helped everywhere by the Koreans.

The Times correspondent cites no trustworthy authority for this report. Apparently he got it from the source which has supplied him with previous stories of Chinese victories, of which neither the Chinese nor the Japanese legations have been informed.

IN MARTIAL ARRAY.

CRIME in any army is punished on a scale ten times more severe than anything known to civil life.

According to a decree issued by the French minister of war, the following defects, among others, will no longer exempt a man from the obligation of military service: Toothlessness, dwarfish stature, hair-tilt, squint-eyes, superfluous or deficient fingers or toes, varicose veins, hernia, stammering and baldness.

GEN. LORD WOLSELEY has been appointed field marshal at an age younger than that of any of fifty-six persons of royal blood who have been advanced to that rank since its establishment in 1793, with two exceptions—John, duke of Argyll, who with the earl of Deloray, formed the first creation, and the duke of Wellington, who received the baton of Vittoria at the age of forty-four years.—Chicago Army Magazine.

HOG BRISTLES.

The feed for little pigs should be sweet, and not sour.

LITTLE pigs ought always to have access to fresh water for drink.

Look out for the filthy pig sty and disease-breeding troughs and barrels during this hot weather.

ALL wastes from the kitchen and table are wholesome and suitable as feed for pigs, but a swill-bowl that is never empty and never clean injures the system of a hog and his owner's profit.

DON'T be so foolish as to refuse to let the hogs have the clover field until it is too fall and rank. The pigs should be put in the clover field as soon as it offers fair feeding, whether it be the first thing in the spring or after mowing. Then it will not outgrow them and become too old and woolly to supply their needs.—Farm Journal.

COL. CONKLIN AT HOME.

After 44 Years of Railroading He will Take a Rest.

Col. D. H. Conklin for once in his life
now feels that he can take a rest free from all railroad care and worry. Forty-four years ago he began railroad, and being a man of indomitable energy, a practical all round railroader, and using good common sense in all dealings with companies and men,
he attained high and responsible positions in the management of transportation property. After his retirement from the management of the old Midland railway, he was placed in charge as receiver of the South Atlantic & Ohio railroad, with general office at Bristol, Tenn. That was nearly four years ago. He found the property in the ditch, heavily in debt, rolling stock run down and business no good. The colonel brought it out of the ditch, and a few days ago placed it in the hands of the president, John C. Haskell, who in a personal letter regretting the voluntary withdrawal of Col. Conklin from the road, expressed the thanks of the owners of the property and of the president to the colonel for his good work. The company tried hard to get the colonel to continue in charge of the property, but he had resolved to pull out, and take the rest he has needed for so many years, even before he went to Bristol.

Colonel Conklin is now in Decatur, and feels like a new man since he has nothing like wheels, engines, box and fat cars, ties, bridges and switches to worry him.

GOING INTO POLITICS.

Wheelmen Asked to Make Their Influence Felt in the Campaign.

NEW YORK, August 28.—The League of American Wheelmen has decided to take an active part in politics in the near future. President Linscomb has sent a communication to the chiefs of the several divisions, stating that the executive committee of the L. A. W.
will shortly take measures for an active campaign for highway improvement and for general state laws preventing villages and cities from enacting ordinances restricting the rights of wheelmen. The letter further requests the co operation of the divisions addressed, and in closing says: "I am desirous that the League take such an active part in the coming fall campaign as will convince representatives in the legislatures that the wheelmen are sufficiently organized and in such strength as to command attention to their reasonable demands upon those who make our laws."

Strike Declared Off at Danville.

About one-fifth as many A. R. U.
men declared the strike off on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois road at Danville Monday as voted to go out. This action was taken by eight men in the B. of L. E.
hall, where the Populists were conducting a campaign meeting. President John Smith called the men to order, and the motion to declare the strike off was carried unanimously. This leaves Chicago as the only point not known to have declared off the strike.

Found in a Coal Car.

This forenoon railway men found lying in a coal car on the I. D. & W. track east of the union depot, the corpse of a six-months old female child. It was wrapped in cloth and newspaper. Coroner Bendure and Marshal Lehman removed the find to the Reeve & Co. undertaking rooms where the inquest was held. The police may cause a sensation to spring out of the discovery. One or more parties may be arrested.

LOOKING FOR DEEKE.

A Young Forger who has Fled to Escape Arrest.

Last evening George W. Jones swore out a state warrant for the arrest of Alexander G. Deeke on a charge of forgery, and the paper was placed in the hands of Marshal Lehman. Deeke presented a forged check for $25 on the National Bank of Decatur with the name of P. H. Bruck attached at Ottenheimer & Co.'s store, got some goods and got the balance in cash. He also forged Bruck's name to a check for $25 on the same bank and passed it at Geo. W. Jones & Co.'s store, getting about $15 in cash and some clothing.
Bruck heard of the Ottenheimer check and squared that by agreeing to stand the good for the amount; but when the Jones & Co. matter came up he quit, and the warrant was issued. Deeke has left the city and cannot be found. He is 25 years of age and a good bookkeeper.
He came here from Belleville some years ago, was bookkeeper for the old City Coal company, married Miss Katie McDonald and subsequently went to California. He has two children, and he left his wife and her mother in California. A few weeks ago
Deeke showed up in Decatur, and Mr.
Bruck got him a job in the service of the Wabash. He got to drinking and lost his place. Bruck notified Deeke Sunday that he was done with him, and that the best thing he could do would be to leave the city. Deeke is probably far away at this time, and may never be caught.

DIVORCE IN HIGH LIFE.

Mrs. W. R. Vanderbilt Seeks Divorce and $300,000 Annual Allowance.

NEW YORK, August 29.—A Paris dispatch says Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt has under consideration the advisability of instituting proceedings for divorce. The difficulties, it is said, nearly reached a climax some months ago, when the party
on the yacht Valiant in the Mediterranean separated. A proposition is said to have been made by Mrs. Vanderbilt for a separation on the basis of an annual allowance of $300,000 and the custody of her children and the possession of the three houses at Newport, Islip and in New York.

It is said that Mr. Vanderbilt offered no objection but would only consent to terms less liberal than those asked by Mrs. Vanderbilt. She has refused his proposition.

Volunteer Firemen.

There were 7,000 people at the Illinois
Volunteer Firemen's tournament at Edwardsville Tuesday and there was a great parade.

The team from Monmouth won first prize of $25 as the best appearing company in the parade.

The program at the driving park was
as follows:

Event 1—Foot race, 100 yards, prize
$10 and state championship badge;
second $10; third, 25; James Longgan,
of Dixon, won first, time 10:35; Robert Sims, of Monmouth 10:25.

Event 2—Couplers' contest; first prize,
$10 and state championship badge;
second $10; Clinton, by Hediger, won in 45:25; Moline No. 3 won second by Henry Weisend in 45:35.

Event 3—Ladder climbers' contest;
first prize, $10 and state championship
badge; second $10; third, 25; Polo, by John Abbott, won first in 45:15; Litchfield won second in 46:15; Collinsville
third in 47:15.

A band contest for a prize of $200 will be a feature to-day and the contests at the park will be very entertaining.

Powers' New Cushion Shoe.

After experimenting three years I have at last succeeded in making a cushion shoe, which all manufacturers told me was impossible to do, but persevering, I at last found a manufacturer
at South Norwalk, Conn., to carry out my idea. The shoe is not only lighter by three or four ounces, but the thick soles are as flexible as the light turns
The temperature of the sole of the foot
is not affected by warm or cold weather.
Sample can be seen at Powers' Shoe Store. They will soon be on sale for men and women. 28-d&wt

A Curious Stove.

A soft coal stove with only three or four pieces composing the stove proper, thick, durable, simple, and with an outside dress or covering to give it all the beauty that a stove can possess, is something of a rarity, but is a practical success. It is called the "Airsear."
